36 Students and Director

Michigan School For Blind Band To Give Concerts Here

A band from the Michigan School for the Blind, consisting of 36 sightless students and a director, will give a concert on May 2nd at 10 a. m. at the Grayling High School gym.

The concert is for the students of Grayling public schools and Grayling St. Mary's as well as for any adults who are interested in attending. There will be no charge or offering.

The concert is being sponsored locally by the local chapter of the Michigan Society of Crippled Children and is being staged to let Crawford County people witness what the handicapped can do.

Following lunch at the Grayling school, the band will proceed to Grayford for a 2 p. m. concert there.

The band performs both as a concert and a marching band. It is enrolled in the Michigan High School Band Association as a senior high class D unit. It has been a member of the association for the past seven years and for the past six consecutive years has held a number one rating at both District and State band festivals.

It is only during the past three years that the M.S.B. band has been trained into a marching group. It is accomplished mostly by shoulder to shoulder contact of student with another. A partially sighted student is placed in the center of the rank for the purpose of keeping the ranks straight. The drum major is partially sighted and through whistle signals already learned by the band members all maneuvers are accomplished. No more than two normally sighted persons act as guides. One at the front of the marching group and one at the rear for the purpose of protection against unforeseen obstacles on a parade route.

It is interesting to note that every note, every drum beat that is played, every march, every maneuver that it makes, must be completely memorized. This organization can not depend upon the director's baton. The director of the band is Jack Chard, who is also blind. He is a graduate of M.S.U. with a bachelor's and master's degree in music.

The Clarence Stillwagons Observe 60th Anniversary

Over 150 friends and relatives met Sunday afternoon at the Ladies Club Room to extend best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stillwagon on their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Stillwagon were married in West Branch, Mich., April 20th, 1901. They lived in West Branch for five years, at the time Mr. Stillwagon worked in the lumber camps. In 1906 they moved to Lovells and he worked in the mill which was operated by their brother-in-law, E. Douglas. They ran the building house for the men working at the mill.

After the lumbering days were over Mr. Stillwagon was Township Highway Commissioner. In 1932 they became caretakers for Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Boutwell at their home on the North Branch. They worked for them for 23 years. During this time they spent twelve winters in Alabama. After the lodge was sold they returned and now are living in their home at Lovells.

Mr. and Mrs. Stillwagon wish to extend their sincere thanks to all who were present, for the beautiful flowers, cards and many other lovely gifts. Also to the guests who gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sawyer for the beautiful orchid.

Friends and relatives were present from Los Angeles, Calif.; Lansing, Flint, Detroit, East Tawas, Marquette, West Branch, Lewistown, Frederic, Maple Fork and their many friends from Grayling and Lovells.

Previous to the open house, a family dinner was served to 45 guests. All of the immediate family being present. The State Trooper Bud Cud who was on duty.

The Stillwagons had six children, two of whom passed away in infancy. A daughter, Mrs. Martha Hubbard, died in 1904, leaving Jack Stillwagon who is working in Flint, Lewis of Grayling and Mrs. Ruth Cud of Lovells plus seven grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Anglers Prepare For Opener This Saturday

Vikings Split In Two Meets

Last week, the Grayling Viking thins split in two triangular track meets at the cinder lanes at the Grayling Memorial Recreation Area. On Monday, Grayling tangled with Harbor Springs and Boyne City. The final results gave the Harbor Rams 53 and Grayling and Boyne City 40 each.

Some of Grayling's better performers were on a field trip to Midland and that crippled the green and white's chances. Grayling took five first places with Fredrick Gross winning the pole vault and high hurdles, Richard Rochette winning the low hurdles and Tom LaMotte victorious in the 440 yard dash.

On Wednesday, Grayling entertained Manelona and Frederic. The Vikings failed to capture first in only the broad jump and 100 yard dash. Smith placed second in the shot put and a third in the mile gave the Frederic Eagles their five points.

This week, the Vikings will entertain the East Jordan Red Devils and the Gaylord Blue Devils in a triangular meet here on Monday.

On Friday of this week, the Vikings will travel to Charlevoix for a triangular meet with the local Red Raiders and the Gaylord thins.

Joint Spring Library Conference Held Recently

The Michigan Association of School Librarians, a department of the Michigan Education Association, the School and Children's Section of the Michigan Library Association, the Bureau of School Services and the Extension Service of the University of Michigan held their first joint conference in Michigan Union at Ann Arbor, April 23-24, at the name of the "Michigan Libraries in a Changing Society."

After the general meetings Friday morning and afternoon, group meetings were held and during that time materials in a Changing Society, Materials and Aspects were discussed. Foreign students participating in the afternoon meetings spoke about the favorable and unfavorable publicity given home lands and commented on home best practices in their country and that of their neighbors.

Following Friday night's banquet a Freshman Girl Ensemble from Eastern Michigan University, under the direction of Director John Elwell, presented a delightful musical program. After the awarding of one of his books from each of the banquet tables, the author Joseph Krungoltz, a Newberry award winner, spoke on the material for his next book.

A number of Michigan authors sat at the speakers' table, and following the main meeting mingled with the audience to discuss their books.

Saturday morning discussion groups proved very interesting and helpful. Problems created by a changing society and how our librarians are attempting to meet them were discussed.

After the luncheon there was a summation and the meeting was adjourned.

Mrs. Beulah Carman of Houghton Lake, Mrs. Joanna Ray of Roscommon and Mrs. Evelyn Klein of Grayling were the school librarians of this area who attended.

Michigan, One of Nine States Not Having An Executive Mansion

Michigan Governors have a housing problem. If this seems to be a somewhat less than crucial problem in times of world crises, federal government problems and state upheavals, it should be pointed out that Michigan is one of only nine states which at last count did not provide a place for the chief executive to live. For at least 80 years, governors, former governors and plain citizens have been saying the state needs an executive mansion.

But some governors were indifferent to whether the state provided a home for them. At least part of the reason for this is that until this century was well past its majority, few governors spent any considerable amount of time in Lansing, except when the Legislature was in session.

While the Legislature has been less than anxious to provide funds for a permanent residence in Lansing, lawmakers did, in 1935, provide the state's chief executive with a summer home on Mackinac Island. At the same session, incidentally, they refused to support a resolution calling for a Lansing governor's residence.

Plans for one were included in a Federal Works Program for the state that year, but they didn't work out. From 1935 on, agitation for a governor's residence grew, and the Legislature produced a bill in 1936 to build a residence. At one time, plans were afoot to renovate the old Barnes mansion in Lansing for a residence. Strong objections to its "ugliness" were raised, and the cost of renovation proved prohibitive.

Now comes Sen. John W. Fitzgerald, the son of a former governor, with a plan to do something for a constituent. Fitzgerald, a Grand Lodge Republican, introduced a bill to provide $10,000 for rental and operating costs to provide a home for Michigan governors.

Gov. John B. Swainson, a Democrat, is living in a house which he rents himself just outside Lansing—in Fitzgerald's district. Perhaps nobody but Fitzgerald in the Legislature has had the first-hand experience with the problems of governors involving housing. His father, the late Frank D. Fitzgerald, lived at home in Grand Lodge during his tenure as governor.

While many still say the state should provide its governors with a home, owned and operated by the State of Michigan, Fitzgerald would at least take the burden of paying for a residence, which must be used for personal, official and semi-official functions, off the back of the chief executive.

SOMETIMES, A HEADACHE for the homeowner who has been hoodwinked on trees or shrubs is also a pain in the neck to the state Department of Agriculture. Spring brings out the sellers of plants, trees, shrubs, bushes and other nursery stock in droves. The householder is not far behind. Virtually all the sellers of things to grow are reputable. Most deal only in inspected stock, and certainly any established business man could not afford to sell something unwholesome or improper.

Plant pests and diseases are carried on some products. Department of Agriculture inspections go far toward keeping such things in check. As in most other things, however, the legal slogan of "Let the Buyer Beware" applies to plants and nursery stock.

State agriculturists have warned people to look out for plants which are unhealthy looking, which are not in proper shape to be planted, or which are dead or dying.

The y say bulbs, corms or tubers should be plump and fairly firm as well.

RESOLUTIONS NOW BEFORE the Legislature would provide rolling and floating advertisements for Michigan. Sen. John H. Stahlin, (R-Belding), wants to authorize a railroad train to be paid for by contributions made by motorists the East and Mid-west selling Michigan's advantages.

Sen. Harold M. Ryan, (D-Detroit), wants to spend $50,000 of state funds to outfit the former Mackinac Straits ferry "Vacationland" as a touring promotional gimmick for the state.

Stahlin's plan presumably would be a one-shot deal, aimed at convincing Michigan's bad national image.

Ryan, on the other hand, had indicated the Vacationland, renamed "The New Michigan," would continue to sail on and on, visiting ports of the Great Lakes, the St. Lawrence Seaway, the East Coast, and possibly even the West Coast and Europe.

Whether the Vacationland, which recently reverted to state ownership after an ill-fated venture as a package carrier between Detroit and Cleveland, would be seaworthy for ocean voyages is at present unknown.

In the case of both proposals, the aim is admirable. Whether it is practical is a matter for the Legislature to decide.

MOVIES OF THE STATE basketball tournament are available without charge for showing to school assemblies, PTA's or civic organizations. The 30 minute film shows highlights of competition and slips in traffic safety messages at the same time.

The producers were more interested in getting over some safety ideas in a palatable manner than in athletics, but comments by safety experts worked into the sound track are designed to help without detracting from the glamour of the film. A series of five-second pitches are dropped in to relate some aspect of play, sportsmanship, skill, etc., with similar situations involving driving. It's an experiment. Let's of safety experts are watching to see how it works.

Film can be booked by writing Driver Education, Department of Public Instruction, 230 N. Grand Ave., Lansing.

THE HALL TREE
By Mrs. Esther Hall

Sunday, April 16, was a miserable, cold day weatherwise; but inside the 2-family dwelling at 1574 McKinstry (Detroit), it was cozy and cheerful. This was Open House day for relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Somero (Shirley Hall).

First to arrive and last to leave were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hall and daughter Sherrie of Russell, N. Y., arriving Friday evening and leaving Monday morning (first checking road conditions with the State Police). Next came Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richman and 4 children of Oscego — it's a good thing they went to the Tiger ballgame on Saturday, because the weather wasn't too bad that day. It was a great thrill for the boys as they are great ball fans and players at their own school. They left Sunday at 8 p. m. and felt very fortunate to get home as so many cars were stalled and in the ditch along the highway. They had a foot of snow in their own yard upon arrival there.

There were gathered 45 people from 13 destinations this afternoon to visit and eat dinner, and they brought presents, as this was Mrs. Hall's birthday. Two lovely birthday cakes appeared, one from her daughters, and her sister, Eva, made the other. But there was an even greater attraction, which was Bud Beckman, who has been growing "follage" for the Pontiac Centennial — he is to be a Key-stone Cop in the pageant, and he looks it with his handle-bar mustache and suit-curl and side-part. It was quite some fun introducing the "bearded man" to his close relatives who didn't recognize him until they were within kissing distance.

Those present included Mrs. Alice See of Romeo, Henry and Ruby Beckman of Troy, Eva Harland of Ferndale, Mr. and Mrs. Enos Jennings and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jennings of Hazel Park, Mrs. Fern McDonald of Waterford, Glen and Betty Brunning of Troy, Dan and Pat Pitsenberger of Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Jennings and baby of Detroit, Edith and Marjorie Schutt and daughter Susie of Royal Oak, Mr. and Mrs. Al Harland and 7 children of Novi, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Beckman and 2 children of Pontiac.

Sherrie Hall took the last of the birthday cake back to N. Y., for her brothers and uncle who "held down the fort" while Mommie and Daddy were gone.

A number can hope to see our Grayling friends soon.

People To People — Via Private Enterprise . . .

In these turbulent days we read more and more about countries in every part of the world which heretofore have seemed far removed from our daily lives. The Middle East, Asia, Africa and many areas have been story book names — lands of mystery, plots and counter plots, beautiful women and intrigue. Every section of the world is in the day's news. Our lives are affected in more ways than one by the trend of events, because we are only hours from any point on the globe.

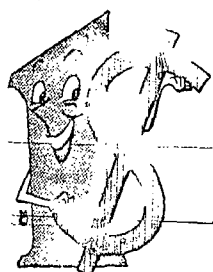

Industry is doing a tremendous job in creating understanding between our people and those of other lands. When the bread and butter of an Arab and an American are linked by association and work in a basic industry, respect and friendship are born.

A beautifully illustrated "Handbook" of some 440 pages has been published by the Arabian American Oil Company (Aramco). It is one of several similar companies which are developing the oil resources of the Middle East to meet the expanding needs of the free world.

If young people could see this book in classrooms and libraries, it would give them a new understanding of a great section of the world of which they have gained impressions largely through motion pictures showing burning deserts, fighting tribesmen and veiled women.

It was in the Middle East that man's first steps were taken in the direction of organized social and community life. It was there that man developed arts and skills — an intelligent solution of the problems of existence. The book presents by photography and text the sculpture, architecture, art, buildings, musical instruments and the ways of life in the Middle East from thousands of years before Christ to the present. A wealth of oil below the desert sands. But it remained for modern science to find it, and private initiative and capital make it available for the people, and bring new life to the desert.

What has been accomplished by the oil industry in the Middle East in one generation has been a transformation.

tion of large segments of the population. Within a few short years the change has been more profound than the change that took place in the lives of Americans and Europeans between the American Revolution and the Twentieth Century. Old cities are being rebuilt on Modern lines. Railroad trains, trucks, automobiles and regularly scheduled airplanes now traverse routes followed only by camel caravans not many years ago. Schools, hospitals, medical service and new industries have followed. This has meant the commingling of races in close working relations.

What future history will have to say about the outcome of forces presently at work in the Middle East may depend in part upon how fair a chance the oil companies have to demonstrate the advantages of free enterprise to their own key industry over a sufficient period of time, and upon the wisdom with which they practice the principles in which they believe.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

April 28, 1938

It has long been the hope that eventually Grayling would become an air mail stopping place, and now it looks quite assured. Last week Postmaster James McDonnell, Attorney Charles E. Moore, Mayor George Burke, and Dr. J. F. Cook, all of Grayling, and T. F. Marston, secretary of the E. M. T. Ass'n., attended the aeronautics conference in Lansing and there presented the advantages to be had here at Grayling airport for an air mail stop, in the route laid out from Detroit to Sault Ste. Marie and return. The Grayling delegation was introduced by City Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner, and in so doing mentioned the great work that is being done at Grayling for the promotion of winter sports. He particularly praised the progressiveness of the people of Grayling and their enterprises for doing things in a big way. He backed up the request of the Grayling delegation for this city to be included in the airmail stations. Other present too gave strong support to the Grayling request. Among the latter was Col. Floyd Evans of the National Guard air corps. The plan seemed to meet the approval of the aeronautics commission with the strongest indication that Grayling would be made an airmail stop when this route is established.

Welcoming their new pastor and his family, Rev. and Mrs. Christian Stockholm and son Benedict, the members of the Danish Lutheran congregation held a reception Sunday evening at Daneshof Hall. Rev. Stockholm and his family have come to Grayling from Cozad, Neb., to take up the pastorate of the Danish Lutheran Church, which has been left vacant since last September when Rev. and Mrs. Hans Juhl were called from their work here to Hampton, Iowa.

Mrs. C. M. Ross, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. P. Peterson and family since the first of February, returned to her home in Yassas Thursday. Mrs. Peterson and daughters accompanied her.

Mrs. Willard Harwood and son Pat and Miss Yvonne SanCartier spent Sunday visiting in West Branch. Bobby Tiffin returned with them after spending the week visiting his grandmother Mrs. Charles Tiffin.

Earl Dawson was out a short time Wednesday after a couple of weeks of confinement because of the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyl Cameron and son Robert of Grand Rapids visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron over the weekend.

Harold MacNeven left Tuesday in company with Pilot Paul Clugh in the W. L. McClanahan plane, flying to Los Angeles, Calif. They expect to return Saturday.

Mrs. Axel Christensen of Flint, who came to attend the funeral of her father-in-law Hans Christensen Wednesday, is remaining for a few weeks visit with her sister, Mrs. Norman Johnston of Beaver Creek.

The Michigan Public Service Commission just installed a new cement walk in front of its offices. Seiter Bros. of Clare are remodeling the Nick Schlotz store building. New hardwood floors are being laid thruout.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd SanCartier are happy over the arrival of a daughter, weighing 7 1/2 pounds, Friday morning. The little lady is to be called Sandra Louise.

Mrs. Clara Smith invited several little friends over Friday afternoon to celebrate the 6th birthday of Baby Smith. Games were in order for the afternoon, after which a delicious lunch was served. Bobby received many lovely gifts.

Albert Madill and family have moved into their new home north of Frederick on the main stream of the Ausable River. Their electric lights come from their plant located near the river.

Emil L. Kraus, senior in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Detroit, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Kraus, delivered a paper on French customs at the last meeting of the French Club, campus organization for social and scholarly association of French students.

It is reported that a Michigan Central car loaded with coal jumped the track near Otsego Lake Monday evening and was dragged nearly a half mile before discovered. It ripped up the track for a considerable distance, smashing 3,500 ties. The morning train was delayed for about six hours.

William Heric, Truman Ingram, Reginald Sheehy, Harold Edwards, Leo Skinner, Calvin McEvers and Roy Smith of the local Kerry & Hanson Co. plant left Sunday for Big Bay to do some special work at the Company's plant there expecting to be gone for about three weeks.

The new winter sports officials, recently elected, are Emil Giegling, president; Charles E. Moore, vice president; William Hill, secretary, and C. J. McNamara, treasurer.

About 25 relatives and friends met at the home of Roy Wolcott Sunday evening to help him celebrate his birthday. Bunco and pinocle were played, prizes being awarded to Mrs. Al Stephan and Mrs. Leona Papendick for pinocle, and Mrs. Alice LaMotte and Mrs. Truman Ingram for bunco. A delicious lunch was served, after which the guests departed, wishing Mr. Wolcott many more happy birthdays.

Through the efforts of Grayling Chamber of Commerce a surveying crew of the Gulf Oil Refining Co. is located in Grayling. Mr. Reynolds of that Company was in Grayling Friday and let the local committee know what they required. Accommodations for the housing of eight families, 30 rooms for single men, office space and a store building would be necessary to take care of the needs required.

The response by the public was spontaneous and the committee was able to secure the accommodations of 7 apartments and one house. This crew of surveyors have been engaged in operation in Bay, Arcene and Gladwin counties. They are expected to be established in Grayling for a year or longer. As may be assumed, the company is making this survey with the hope of opening new oil fields. The concerted action by the officers and members of the Chamber of Commerce deserves the gratitude of the public.

Letters To The Editor

April 10, 1961

Mr. LeRoy Christian
Band Director
Grayling High School
Grayling, Michigan

Dear Mr. Christian:
We wish to say "thanks a million" for the very fine way in which you, the Band students, the chaperones and everyone were entertained during our short visit in Grayling. The students were more than pleased with their overnight housing.

You had a very fine listening audience for us and we were pleased to see so many out for a Saturday night concert.

Thanks to you and your principal, Mr. Fenton, for all your efforts in making arrangements for us to play the concert and also in making it possible for us to have a church service. The minister had a very excellent talk for our young people.

Our entire tour was a success and it is only through nice people like you and the others in Grayling that make it possible.

Sincerely,
Bazil O'Reilly
Band Director

Sports Stars

JIM BROWN, powerful fullback of the Cleveland Browns professional football club is rated by many observers as the "all-time greatest." Jim shattered the National Football League rushing record in 1958, his second pro year, advancing the ball 1,527 yards. He's been setting all kinds of records since. Opposing linemen regard him as the most difficult man in football to stop once he gets his hands on a football.

Consumer outlays in Crawford County, in 1960, added up to a sturdy $9,269,000.

They consisted of retail purchases of merchandise and commodities, which amounted to $7,080,000, and of expenditures for services, which amounted to $2,189,000.

The total marks an increase over the volume recorded a year earlier, $7,862,000.

A portion of this rise was due to advances in the cost of living, it is pointed out, and so must be discounted. Most of it, however, is real since prices have not gone up to the extent that incomes have.

The national spending picture, as it applies to average families across the country, has been undergoing drastic changes in recent years.

People are using a larger proportion of their available cash in new ways and smaller proportion for the things that it went for formerly.

More of it is going for rent or for new homes, more for medical care and other services and more for travel and recreation. The trend has been at the expense of durable goods — heavy appliances and the like.

$9,269,000 In Consumer Spending

(Special to the Avalanche)

New York — Despite the business conditions and the unemployment situation of the past year, Crawford County has been more than holding its own in the national spending picture.

Through its local spending for goods and services, the county contributed its full share of the nation's business volume, according to Commerce Department statistics and marketing studies made by other agencies.

This is brought out in a breakdown of the gross national product (GNP), which is the dollar value of all goods and services produced in the country and is the generally accepted measure of economic accomplishment.

In the past fiscal year the GNP rose to $500 billion, a figure never before reached.

The rise was due chiefly to steady consumer spending on the part of the American public. They accounted for 65 percent of the total, states the Commerce Department.

The other 35 percent, which represents government spending and capital investments made by industry, proved to be of quite secondary importance.
